A sixth generation Texan, Nathan co-founded O'Neil Anderson after working for a national law firm in Houston as a commercial litigator focusing on labor and employment law. Family law has always been Nathan's passion and he combines right amount of aggressiveness with tact to obtain the best possible results for his clients. Nathan firmly believes in taking a proactive approach to case management and that continuing to do the same old things in the same old ways leads to the same old results – a continuing downward spiral in client satisfaction.

As a litigator, Nathan has earned the respect of his clients, peers and opponents by never taking short cuts and always being professional. No stranger to hard work, Nathan obtained his Juris Doctor from Southern Methodist University cum laude while working his way through law school. During law school Nathan was the President of the Phi Delta Phi legal honors fraternity and president of the SMU Family Law Association. Nathan was also the recipient of the State Bar of Texas Law Student Division Legal Professionalism Award for the SMU campus.
